

For more information, contact:

Scott Richardson
Corporate Communications Manager
Universal Surveillance Systems
800-488-9097

Teenage Brother-Sister Team Raises Over $40,000 for Children's Charity with Favorite TV Personality

Rancho Cucamonga, CA — Brandon Sayegh, 16, and Nichole Sayegh, 15, two energetic high school students from Rancho Cucamonga, CA, worked with Olympic athlete and television personality Bruce Jenner to raise over $40,000 for the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) by holding a charitable golf tournament held at Torrey Pines in La Jolla, CA, on June 11.

The enthusiastic teenage brother-sister team are president and vice president of the Universal Surveillance Systems Foundation (USS Foundation), a charitable, non-profit organization dedicated to helping poor and less fortunate children have the tools, skills and knowledge to build a better life with a hope for a brighter tomorrow.

Inspired by their father Adel Sayegh, who grew up in poverty, Brandon and Nichole radiate a contagious passion to continually find innovative ways to help children who need a boost in life. The golf event was their most recent undertaking, and previous events include feeding the homeless, providing complete Thanksgiving dinners to low-income families and holding special events for disabled children at local hospitals. In addition, one of their major initiatives through the USS Foundation is the Adopt-A-Bike program that has donated over 1,000 bicycles to needy children around the country for a reliable way to travel to school and get the needed education to be successful.

“Our father instilled in us that one of the most important things in life is giving back,” said Brandon. "It is our duty to share our blessings with others and encourage those who are less fortunate not to lose sight of their hopes and dreams. We need to let them know others care, so they will always stay true in seeking a better life through education, determination and perseverance."

"I've made it a major goal of my life to help and encourage others with practical solutions," Brandon continued. "As president of the USS Foundation, I look forward to establishing and leading additional programs and initiatives to reach more people in more places with an increasingly wider scope of targeted, uplifting projects. My father's motivating inspiration drives me to continually create new ways to support underprivileged children so they won't lose hope and will always reach for the stars."

Nichole commented, "For our Torrey Pines event, we selected NCMEC because of their incredible legacy of helping vulnerable children. Since they were founded in 1984, they have assisted in recovering over 184,000 lost children. At last week's golf tournament, with the help of Bruce Jenner's valuable participation, we had a record-breaking event that raised over $40,000 for NCMEC."

"For me, helping others less fortunate is one of the most fulfilling things I can do with my life," she continued. "The great programs of the USS Foundation keep growing in number, size and reach. I consider it an honor to be vice president of such a wonderful organization that has already changed so many lives."

The USS Foundation is a charitable, non-profit organization dedicated to helping poor and less fortunate children have the tools, skills and knowledge to build a better life with a hope for a brighter tomorrow. Working both locally and nationally, they focus on important programs that support community food banks, hospitals, homeless shelters and youth education through their Adopt-A-Bike program that has donated over 1,000 bicycles to needy children across the country. For more information, contact the USS Foundation at 1-800-488-9097 or visit their website at HYPERLINK "http://www.ussfoundation.org"

Since its inception in 1984, NCMEC has been at the forefront of the fight to keep children safer from abduction and sexual exploitation through resource assistance to help find missing children, reduce child sexual exploitation, bring perpetrators to justice and prevent devastating crimes against children. For more information, visit the NCMEC website at HYPERLINK "http://www.missingkids.com"

###

More Information:

The Universal Surveillance Systems Foundation (USS Foundation) is a charitable, non-profit organization dedicated to helping poor and less fortunate children have the tools, skills and knowledge to build a better life with a hope for a brighter tomorrow. Visit the USS Foundation at HYPERLINK "<http://www.ussfoundation.org>" www.ussfoundation.org. The USS Foundation is also on Facebook at HYPERLINK "<http://www.facebook.com/pages/USS-Foundation/289198164488473>" <http://www.facebook.com/pages/USS-Foundation/289198164488473> and Twitter at HYPERLINK "<https://twitter.com/USSFoundation>" <https://twitter.com/USSFoundation>,

The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children[®] (NCMEC) opened in 1984 to serve as the nation's clearinghouse on issues related to missing and sexually exploited children. Today NCMEC is the leading nonprofit organization in the U.S. providing assistance to law enforcement and families to find missing children, reduce child sexual exploitation and prevent child victimization. They are authorized by Congress to perform 19 programs and services to assist law enforcement, families and the professionals who serve them. Visit NCMEC at HYPERLINK "<http://www.missingkids.com/home>" <http://www.missingkids.com/home>. NCMEC is also on Facebook at HYPERLINK "<https://twitter.com/MissingKids>" <https://twitter.com/MissingKids> and Twitter at HYPERLINK "<https://twitter.com/MissingKids>" <https://twitter.com/MissingKids>.

Bruce Jenner captivated audiences when he broke the world record by scoring 8,634 points in the decathlon at the 1976 Olympic Games in Montreal, earning him the title of "World's Greatest Athlete." His accomplishments merited his picture on the front of the coveted Wheaties cereal box seven years following the Olympics. Beyond his athletic achievements, Bruce has been involved in a wide variety of projects and causes. Most recently, he worked to raise awareness for Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease, or COPD.

One of the most recognizable athletes of all-time, Jenner has also become well-known as America's favorite reality-TV Dad on the E! Network hit show, Keeping Up with the Kardashians. His TV experience extends into the broadcasting world too. For the 2012 London Olympic Games, Jenner served as E! Network's Olympic correspondent where he interviewed the top athletes in London.

He is also a highly respected and much sought-after motivational speaker, especially within the corporate sector. In his life, and expressed through his motivational speeches, Bruce chooses to find his inner champion. His book "Finding the Champion Within" reflects his Olympic journey and how it translates to everyday life.

As an entrepreneur, actor, author, spokesperson and reality television personality, Bruce remains enthusiastic in all of his endeavors. A man of all trades, Bruce's efforts have made him an inspiration to audiences around the world.